GETTING MARRIED IN LUANG PRABANG

Lao law requires all foreigners who marry Lao nationals in Laos, to first prepare a sworn Affidavit of Marriage. Then, the affidavit must be notarized by their own country's embassy, affirming that they are legally free to marry.

On the other hand, the Lao marriage law has no provision for marriages between two foreigners, and the Lao Government will not issue a marriage certificate to two foreigners.

However, there are several ways to make a magical occasion, including:

- Dress in traditional costume and get ready for groom challenges and the long drum parade before claiming your bride's hand.
- Get blessed by monks and say 'I do' in front of a symbolic lotus arch.
- Step into our stunning boat for a trip along the Mekong River, sipping crafted cocktails and nibbling delicious tapas.
- Return for a romantic dinner amid the flickering flames of 500 candles.
- Choose Laotian or international delights that both work well with wine pairings.

LOCATIONS FOR CEREMONIES & RECEPTIONS

- Lotus Pond (outdoors) – 40 people
- Spa Jungle – 15 people
- Pool Side – 60 people (buy-out only)
- 500 candles hut – 20 people for ceremony and 15 for reception
- Orchid Garden – cocktail receptions for up to 20 people
